Oil Search continues to be a leader in reporting practices

---

Media Release

5 July 2016

The Australian Council of Superannuation Investors (ACSI) has again rated Oil Search in the Leading category for its sustainability reporting and disclosure practices. Oil Search is now a pace-setting leader, 1 of 26 companies in the ASX200 that has maintained its place in the Leader category for five or more years, as well as a leader in the Energy, Gas and Utilities sector.

ACSI assesses ASX200 companies by benchmarking public disclosure of material environmental, social and governance (ESG) risks. With 29 Australian superannuation funds and six international pension funds with over $1.5 trillion in investments under membership, ACSI believes that commitment to managing ESG risks provides safer long term investment returns.

To be considered in the Leading category of ACSI's report, companies usually measure and disclose performance across at least five sustainability risk areas, disclosing target and performance data on their website, annual and/or sustainability reports. These sustainability risk areas are generally considered and integrated in to the company's wider business strategy and measured against globally recognised reporting standards.

Oil Search has continued to evolve the way we communicate our Social Responsibility risks and performance. The Social Responsibility microsite now has a fully customisable data book for use by investors and stakeholders to scrutinise data, as well as provides the ability to create customisable reports.

Transparent disclosure and reporting of ESG risks is part of Oil Search's overall commitment to social responsibility and sustainable development. As a supporting company for the EITI, Oil Search has a long standing commitment to payments transparency and this year, for the first time, published information on its tax strategy and structure. Oil Search's commitment was further highlighted in 2015 by:

- Investing US$9.6 million in sustainable development
- A 13% reduction in emissions intensity
- Inclusion on the FTSE4Good Index for the first time and awarded the RobecoSAM Industry Mover Medal
- Zero safety incidents resulting in a Lost Work Day Case
